SECTION II: CAPITAL AND SHARES

Article 7: Share Capital:

- (a) The issued share capital of the Bank is ten billion (10,000,000,000) Saudi Riyals divided into one billion (1,000,000,000) ordinary shares of equal value of SAR10 each and are fully paid, bearing equal rights and obligations for all shareholders.
- (b) The shareholders of the Bank shall not be liable for any debts or other obligations incurred by the Bank, except to the extent of the unpaid value of the Bank's shares for which they have subscribed.

Article 8: Preferred and Redeemable Shares

The Bank may, after obtaining SAMA's written no-objection, issue preferred or redeemable shares or decide to purchase such shares, or convert them in accordance with the procedures put in place by the relevant authorities. Preferred shares do not confer on their holders the right to vote in the general assemblies unless the Bank fails to pay a certain percentage of the net profits after deducting the reserves to holders of such shares for three consecutive years. As an exception, preferred shares shall be given the right to vote in general assemblies if the resolution of the general assembly results in the reduction of the Bank's capital, liquidation, or sale of its assets, and each preferred share shall have one vote in the general assembly.

Article 9: Sale of Non-Paid Shares:

1. The shareholder shall pay the value of the share on the specified deadlines and if a shareholder fails to pay the value of the shares at the specified deadlines therefor, then the Board may, after having served a notice to the Shareholder by means of a registered mail to the address recorded in the Shareholders' Register or by any Modern Technology Means, sell such shares in a public auction or in the stock exchange, as appropriate, and in accordance with the guidelines set by the relevant authority,. In the foregoing case, pre-emptive rights shall be vested with the remaining shareholders for the purchase of the shares of the defaulting shareholder.
2. The Bank shall recover those amounts due payment to it out of the sale proceeds and refund the balance to the Shareholder. If the sale proceeds are insufficient to cover the Bank's dues, then the Bank may recover the entire amount due from the respective shareholder's funds.
3. The rights attached to those shares whose value remains outstanding shall be suspended upon the due date set for their payment and until they are sold, or their outstanding value has been paid-up in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this article. The rights which shall be suspended in the foregoing case shall include the right to obtain a share of the net profits subject to distribution, the right to attend general assemblies and vote on their decisions. However, the defaulting Shareholder may, up to the date of the sale of the relevant shares, pay the due amounts in addition to the expenses incurred by the Bank in this regard.

4. The Bank shall cancel the Shares sold according to the provisions of this article and shall issue to the purchaser a new share certificate bearing the serial number of the cancelled share and note the sale of the share and the relevant information of the new shareholder in the Shareholders' Register.

Article 10: Issue of Shares:

- (a) The Bank's shares are of nominal value and may not be issued at less than their par value. However, the shares may be issued at a higher value, in which case the difference in value shall be added as a separate item within the shareholders' rights and shall not be distributed as profits among the Shareholders.
- (b) A share shall be indivisible vis-à-vis the Bank. If a share is owned jointly by several persons, they shall select one person from amongst them to exercise, on their behalf, the rights pertaining to the share, and they shall be jointly responsible for the obligations arising from the ownership of the share.
- (c) The Board may decline to register or acknowledge any transfer of shares whilst the transferor shareholder is indebted to the Bank on any account whatsoever. Neither the Bank nor the Board shall incur any liability to shareholder or any third parties for declining to register any proposed share transfer in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph

Article 11: Share trading:

1. The Bank may seize shares that are owned by any shareholder who is indebted to the Bank together with any unpaid dividends to secure any due amounts or liabilities toward the Bank provided that such shares are not subject to any restrictions in favor to other parties based on the Bank's records.
2. The Board, after giving thirty days' notice to such shareholder, shall have the right to sell by auction such seized shares, recoup itself out of the sale proceeds, and reimburse the remainder of such sale proceeds, if any, to the shareholder. In case the proceeds of such sale are not sufficient for settling the debts and obligations of the shareholder to the Bank, the Bank shall have the right to claim the balance from the shareholder's other monies.

Article 12: Purchasing, Pledging and Selling Bank Shares and Loaning Employees:

1. The Bank –after having obtained a written no-objection from SAMA- may purchase, or sell its ordinary or preferred shares in accordance with the guidelines set by the relevant regulatory authorities. However, the shares purchased by the Company shall not bear any voting rights at general assemblies.
2. The Bank – after having obtained prior written approval from SAMA – may sell its treasury shares in one or several stages.
3. The Bank –after having obtained a written no-objection from SAMA- may also purchase its shares and allocate the same to any employee share incentive in accordance with the guidelines set by the relevant regulatory authorities. In all cases, the shares purchased by the Bank shall not bear any voting rights at general assemblies of the shareholder.

4. Without prejudice to the requirements and the provisions of the Banking Control Law, SAMA regulations and any other relevant regulations, the Bank may grant loans or facilities in accordance with its employee incentive programs or otherwise whether in return for profits or not.

Article 13: Share trading:

The shares of the Bank shall be traded in accordance with the provisions of the Capital Market Law and its implementing regulations subject to the regulations and rules issued by SAMA.

Article 14: Shareholders register:

1. The names of Shareholders shall be registered and the shares of the Bank shall be traded in accordance with the provisions of the Capital Market Law.
2. Subscribing in shares or holding them provides for the approval of the shareholder to these bylaws and his commitment to the resolutions issued by the general assembly.

Article 15: Increase of Capital:

1. The extraordinary general assembly may, after having obtained a written no-objection from SAMA, adopt a resolution to increase the Bank's issued share capital once or several times by issuing new shares having the same nominal value of the original shares or at a premium, provided that the original issued share capital shall have been paid in full, in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Law, provided that the shares held by Saudi citizens, whether legal or natural, shall not be less than the minimum percentage allowed for Saudi shareholding according to the regulations in force.
2. The shareholder who owns shares at the time of the extraordinary general assembly's resolution approving the increase of the capital shall have the preemptive rights to subscribe for the new cash shares. The Shareholders shall, by publishing in a daily newspaper, or by way of registered mail or Modern Technology Means, be notified of their preemptive rights, the resolution increase the share capital, the conditions, start date, duration and expiry of the subscription.
3. The Extraordinary General Assembly shall have the authority to suspend the preemptive right of the shareholders in the subscription to the capital increase against cash shares, or to give a pre-emptive right to employees or non-shareholders in the cases the Assembly deems appropriate and in the best interest of Bank.
4. A shareholder may sell or assign the pre-emptive right from the time of the issuance of the Assembly's resolution approving the of capital increase to the last day of subscription in the new shares associated with these rights and according to the guidelines set by the competent authority.

5. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (4) above, the new shares shall be allotted to the holders of pre-emptive rights who apply for subscription to such shares. Allocation of new shares shall be in proportion to a shareholder's respective preemptive rights of the total preemptive rights resulting from the capital increase, provided that the shares allotted to a shareholder shall not exceed what a shareholder has applied for. The remaining new shares shall be allotted to the holders of pre-emptive rights who have applied for more than entitlement in proportion to their pre-emptive rights provided that the number of new shares they are allotted does not exceed what they have applied for. Unless otherwise decided by the Extraordinary General Assembly or otherwise provided for by the Capital Market Law, the remaining shares shall be offered to the public.

Article 16: Decrease of Capital:

Subject to the provisions of the Companies law and other related regulations, and after obtaining a written no-objection from SAMA, the Extraordinary General Assembly may resolve to reduce the Bank's share capital if it exceeds the Bank's needs or if the Bank incurs losses. The Bank may, in the aforementioned case only, decrease its capital below the limit set out in the Banking Control Law, such resolution shall be adopted pursuant to the submission of a statement before the general assembly providing for the reasons of such reduction, the Bank's obligations and the effect of the reduction on their obligations.

If the reduction of the capital is due to it exceeding the Bank's needs, then the Bank's creditors must be invited to express their objection thereto within forty-five (45) days from the determined date of the extraordinary general assembly provided that the invitation contains a statement indicating the Bank's capital before and after the reduction. If a creditor objects to the reduction in the Bank's capital and presents his documents to the Bank within the above-mentioned period, the Bank must either pay such outstanding obligation if it is due or provide him with an adequate guarantee if the maturity date of the debt is in the future.

Equality must be taken into account among the shareholders who hold shares of the same type and category when reducing the capital.
